OMB okays rezoning

The Haliburton County Board of Education can now move ahead with its plans for a temporary satellite school in the former IGA building in Minden.

Last Wednesday, Ontario Municipal Board Chairman Henry Stewart dismissed the appeals against the temporary rezoning of the property. The decision came after hearing a full five hours of testimony, both in favour of and against the plan, Tuesday.

Dismissing the appeals, Stewart said it is apparent the school board will be able to provide the necessary safety requirements at this 1.1-acre site on Bobcaygeon Road. He added that the board is satisfied that the township has investigated all the alternatives before agreeing to this rezoning.

The property is on the fringe of the downtown business area and was used as a grocery store up until two years ago. Since that time the building has sat vacant.

Earlier this year the Board of Education expressed an interest in the property to help solve the overcrowding at Archie Stouffer Elementary School. However, before the property could be used as a school, it had to be rezoned from Commercial to Institutional.

On May 5, Anson, Hindon and Minden Council passed the rezoning. Subsequent appeals from neighbouring property owners, as well as from parents who were concerned about the safety of children at this location, demanded an OMB hearing.

The OMB heard from 16 witnesses, including two planning experts, a structural engineer, the board's business administrator, the school principal, a teacher, and concerned residents.

Jadek Investments, which was one of the most outspoken opponents to the rezoning bid, was represented by David Shapiera, who is vice president of the company as well as a lawyer.

At the outset of the hearing, Shapiera requested an adjournment in order that he could have a planning expert give evidence. He told the board that he had been in contact with a planner who was willing to give evidence that the rezoning bylaw does not conform to the municipality's Official Plan. However, he said Tuesday's hearing conflicted with the planner's vacation plans.

Street stays open

The sixth annual Minden sidewalk sale will be just that; a sidewalk sale. Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Council has refused to permit the closing of the street for this event.

Because of the amount of traffic in town this summer, the downtown business area can not afford to give up the 20 parking spaces that would be lost if the street was closed, council decided at its meeting Thursday.

Councillor Verne Graham was the most vocal opponent to the request to close the street for the August 10 sale. He said that none of the downtown merchants took advantage of the vacant street during last year's promotion to set up displays. "Last year there was no one on the street. It was a total waste."

The sidewalk sale has been running for five consecutive years, and will go on this year despite council's decision. The promotion is co-ordinated jointly by The Times and the Business Improvement Area.

Despite the fact that the BIA is involved in this, individual members are against closing the street. Graham said he visited 11 merchants that afternoon and every one of them was against the closing of the street. He said they were in favour of the sale, but they

The parking lot at Minden Arena was aglow with whirling lights last Wednesday when the annual Rotary Carnival came to town. In addition to the midway, people were treated to music from the Winona Drive Brass Quintet, North Country Express and the dance band, Ugly Rumour. For details see page 18.

McKnight is now back in custody

Minden resident Leslie McKnight is being held in custody in Lindsay following a court appearance in Lindsay on Monday. The man was remanded in custody after the court was told he had attended at a pre-sentence interview in an intoxicated condition. The court was told when the man was instructed to return several hours later in a sober condition, he left, but failed to return.

McKnight has been found guilty of sexual assault involving a minor. He was scheduled to be sentenced July 25.

However, when the judge hearing the case learned that McKnight had appeared intoxicated for his pre-sentence interview, he decided to hold the man in custody until the next court date,

September 6. The judge noted that by doing so he would ensure the accused would be available and sober when the pre-sentence interview was conducted.

editorial

We're delighted to learn that Anson, Hindon and Minden's Bylaw Enforcement Officer is taking it upon himself to clear up the longstanding misdirection in the village by coming up with a system of numbering the properties.

Living in an area where few people can tell you the name of the street they live on, let alone their house numbers, is quaint. However, it poses endless problems for anyone who is unfamiliar with the village. It also increases the potential for delays by emergency personnel in the case of a fire, illness or accident.

Brad Bradamore has received council's permission to go ahead and draw up a plan for numbering all the properties in the village. Once he has completed this, he will bring it back to council for approval. From there, the obvious step would be to request everyone to place the street numbers in an obvious place on their houses.

This is an idea that is long overdue in Minden, especially when you consider that our ambulance calls are now being handled through a central dispatch in Lindsay. A dispatcher, who is likely unfamiliar with Minden, could easily be confused when confronted with the sort of directions that are common here. This can cause delays that are entirely unnecessary.

We're looking forward to seeing this idea carried through.

Still dropping

As of July 18, the water levels in the Trent-Severn Waterway reservoirs had dropped to 68.9 per cent of their capacity.

This level is 3.5 per cent lower than the previous week. This represents some slowdown in the decline rate, which had been averaging five per cent per week.

The slower decline rate is attributed to the flow cuts made on the Gull River system. The flow of the Gull River at Norland averaged 16 cubic metres per second during the week of July 16 to 22.

High evaporation rates have caused reservoir lakes to be 12 per cent, or as much as 30 centimetres below the 10-year average. These levels are not normally seen until the last week of August.

Water levels in the Kawarthas are still quite good. Without rain, these lakes are expected to decline gradually, but still remain within navigation ranges.

New names make no sense

For nearly two years I've been driving past a strange building on the way to work, trying to figure out what it was. It's one of those modern red-brick, bunker-style monstrosities, big as a Mulroney promise and radiating all the charm of a refrigerator carton. I figured once they'd bulldozed out the foundation and put in the structural steel, a big sign would go up saying what the building was for. Nope. The day I saw the roof going on, I said to myself "Aha. Now we'll find out who the tenants of the building are." Wrong again. It wasn't until the sod was laid and workmen were painting stripes on the brand new parking lot that a plastic sign went up on the lawn. It reads SYNTEX. Swell. I'm no wiser than I was when the site belonged to woodchucks and dandelions.

I have no idea what SYNTEX is or does or makes and the name is altogether too boring for me to bother finding out. Remember when business names actually TOLD you what the business was about? General Motors made cars, Canadian National Railways ran trains and Massey Ferguson Farm Machinery was where you went to buy a tractor. Even brands that were a little vague could be deciphered. "Esso" for instance. Esso comes from the letters S.O. which stood for Standard Oil - a name that let you know they were in the Black Goo business.

Nowadays the marketplace is fogged in with

The ball is now in parents' court

Editor:

On Wednesday morning, July 27, the Ontario Municipal Board ruled in favour of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon, and Minden allowing the County Board of Education to use the old Minden IGA as a temporary school facility. I have felt from the beginning of this process that the best, second best solution was to have the Kindergarten and Grade One classes in the old IGA building. I say second best solution because I believe that the best solution to the present overcrowding at Archie Stouffer School is a permanent extension.

The OMB hearing provided an opportunity for both sides to express their concerns. I have always been convinced that the Board of Education would not be considering the old IGA unless they believed the facility could be made safe for our children. The testimony given by many experts at the OMB hearing proved this to be true.

I believe, as a parent who will have a daughter at the IGA School this Fall, that the ball is now in my court. With the parents of other children in that facility, I share the responsibility of providing the same input and support that I would give if my child were at the Archie Stouffer building.

More importantly, parents of children at the IGA facility and at Archie Stouffer now have the responsibility of ensuring that the Ministry of Education responds to our need for an extension at Archie Stouffer. Our County Board of Education will continue to make application for these funds. However, without organized support from the community at large, we will face the possibility of never seeing this extension. That will mean continued overcrowding, especially when the temporary three year use of the IGA building ends. Let's hope our community can work together for an extension so that our children can have the best in all aspects of their education.

George Elliott,
Minden.

50th anniversary

Editor:

On behalf of all parishioners of St. Anthony's R.C. Parish, I thank you for the article that you published in your paper, on the occasion of the 50th Anniversary of our parish. Your friendship is greatly valued by the people of St. Anthony's.

Father R. A. Gloccheski, Haliburton.

Nonsensical names are just silly blurry, androgynous company names like BIODYNE, ALPHATRONIX, DUOSYS and, well, SYNTAX. Can't tell is they're a business concern or a Liverpool punk fusion band.

Personally, I think computers are to blame. Most PC's limit the number of letters you can use to "name" a new file - eight letters is about the maximum. This makes it tough for somebody who needs to create a file on say Agostino's Consolidated Tool and Die Incorporated. Which in turn explains how we end up with unfathomable and unpronounceable abominations like AGCOTADI.

But there's some decidedly good news on the fuzzification front: the public isn't taking to the new computer-spawned brand names.

As a matter of fact, they hate 'em.

A San Francisco graphics consulting firm decided to take a survey last year and find out just what folks liked - and didn't like - in the way of brand names. The company dispatched interviewers with clipboards to shopping malls all across the continent. The clipboards contained 672 corporate names. More than a thousand people were buttonholed and cajoled into rating the brand names in terms of recognition and "likeability".

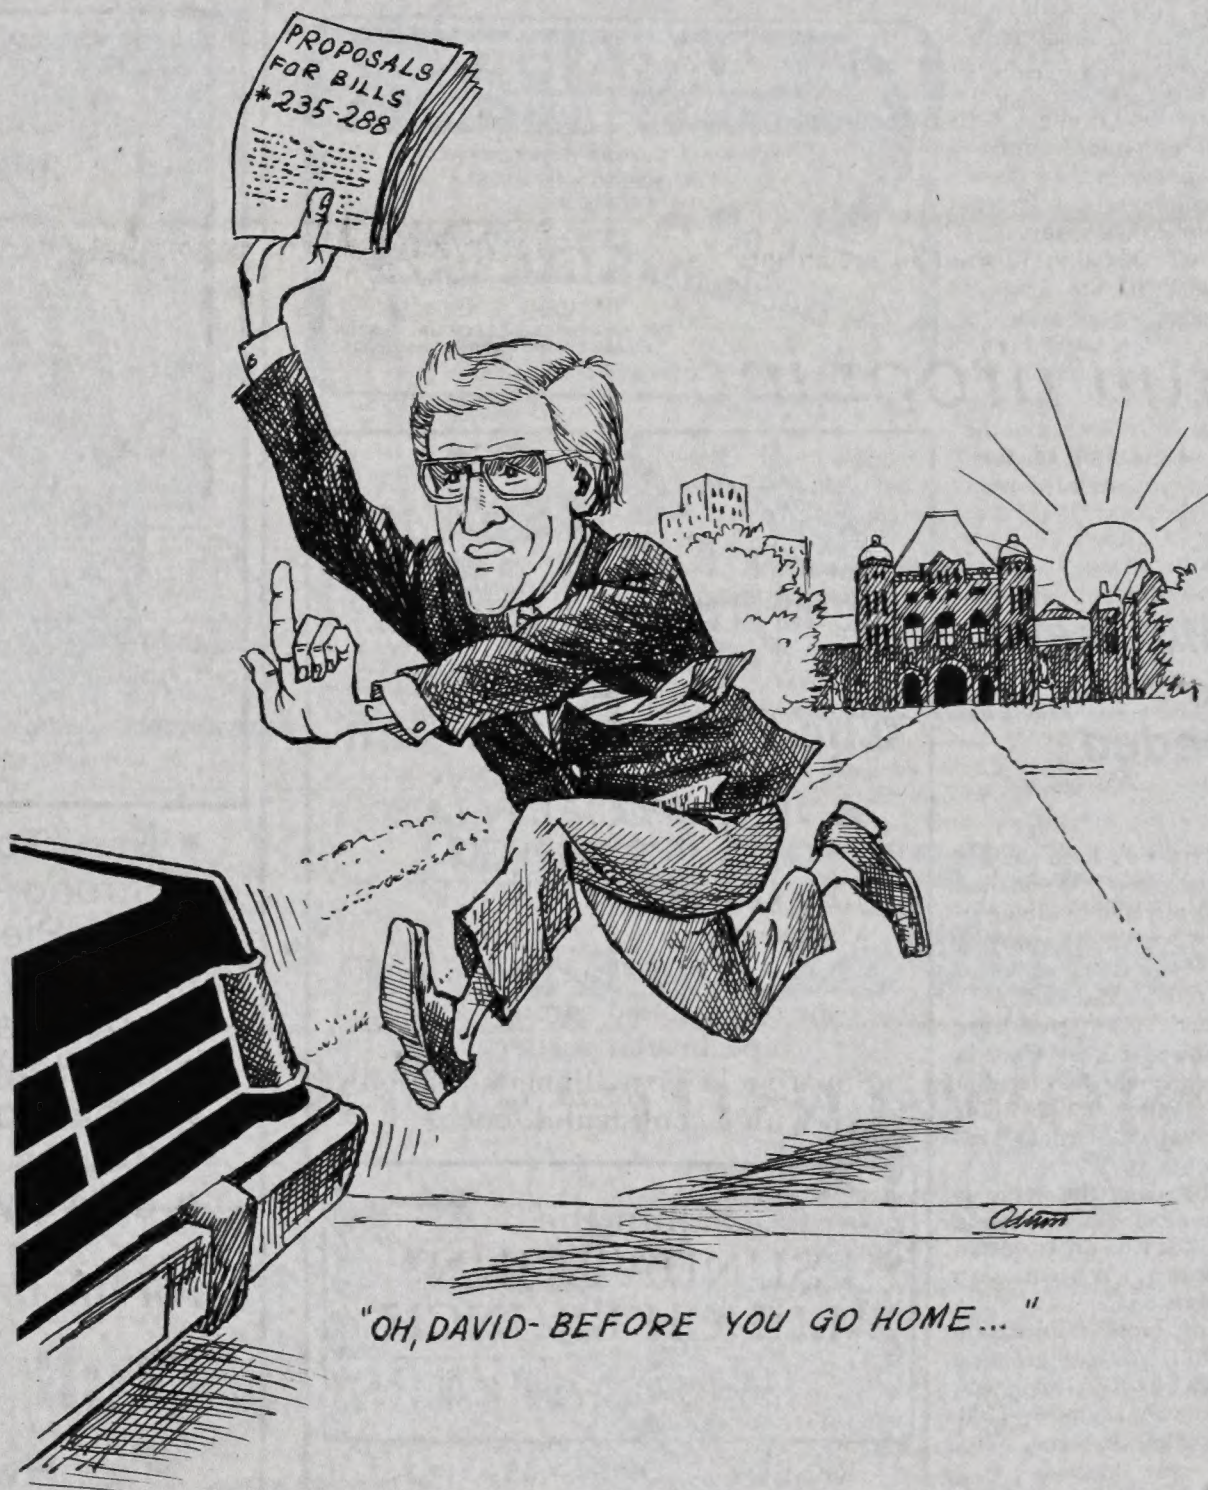

Surprise, surprise, the surveyors discovered that companies with names like Ford Motor, US Air and Remington Firearms - names that tell you what the companies do - scored very high with the people surveyed.

And what was at the bottom of the list? Dopey names. Meaningless, vague and unintelligible names. Names like Navistar, Primerica, Nynex and worst of all - Allegis. Those names don't reveal anything about the companies or their products. Two years ago US Steel decided to change it's nice, simple, straightforward name to the incomprehensible USX Corp. Survey result? People ranked the former name in the top fifty per cent; the new name in the bottom five per cent.

You wouldn't think businessmen would need to be told that consumers prefer clarity to obscurity in a brand name, but apparently they do. The chief executive of Landor & Associates, the company that conducted the brand name survey shakes his head and says "You have to wonder whether it's management's ego or naivete or both. Why not link your name to your heritage, or a meaningful association, rather than picking those nonsensical names?"

Of course, the chief executive of Landor & Associates might know a bit more about that than most folks. His name is John Diefenbach - a name pretty close to one which, if memory serves, has a fair pinch of heritage and meaningful association on this side of the border.

Council questions mail

For some reason, the Minden Ambulance service is having its mail delivered to a post office box in Haliburton Village and Anson, Hindon and Minden Councillor Verne Graham wants it stopped.

Graham wrote out a resolution at last Thursday's council meeting, which would have required Ambulance Superintendent Rob Luke to explain why invoices are not being mailed to the municipal office. The resolution also called for this practice to stop.

Graham feels that since the municipality manages the local ambulance service, mail should be addressed to the municipal office. Although Councillor Bern Berry argued that Luke should be given the opportunity to explain what is going on, Graham said he is not interested in why it is happening. He said he just wants it stopped.

After more discussion on this, council decided to hold the resolution over until the next meeting and give Luke an opportunity to explain why the mail is going to a separate post office box.

Language is threatened

Editor:

Hundreds of little Canadian children are registered for French immersion classes to receive French language concepts for the rest of their lives. Young mothers and fathers should show great love for their children if they took the time to read research done on this subject and not listen so intently to the educational system in our country that is very French oriented.

It is becoming common knowledge that early French immersion distorts good English grammar. Isn't it better to be excellent in the English language because it is foremost in learned and spoken languages in the world? The French language is 13th on the scale of spoken languages. Would you dare to limit the possibilities for your child's future? Who are they going to converse with - each other - Quebec (who resent the English language) or France? The rest of the world knows English!

Consider the possibility that the French intend to "take over" Canada. Would you be contributing to an usurpment of power and authority if you allow your young child to enter French immersion classes too early?

The decision is yours young mothers and fathers. The majority of Canada want to trust that you will make a wise decision for your child's sake and the future of Canada. Contact is Box 22223, Barrie, Ontario L4M 5R3.

Minden village households all to be numbered

Residents of Minden Village will soon have street numbers to help identify the location of their homes.

Municipal Bylaw Enforcement Officer Brad Bradamore has received permission from council to go ahead with his plans to number all the properties in the village. He believes this will be a great asset to anyone trying to locate a residence in the village.

The numbering system should be especially beneficial to emergency personnel.

At last Thursday's council meeting, Bradamore explained that it can be very time consuming trying to find a house when he is out doing building inspections. This problem would be eliminated for himself, for ambulance, police or firefighters with a good numbering system.

Because there are many lots in the village which could be severed, Bradamore said he may have to leave some room in the numbering system for newly created lots.

Vacation Church School Aug. 8

Minden Lake Fun Day - a good time for everyone

The Fourth Annual Minden Lake Fun Day was held Saturday, July 23 at the Berry home on the Coxfarm Road and with over 110 in attendance was the largest one yet.

Again this year, the weather was very favourable. The day began at 1 p.m. with the north side Blue Jays playing a baseball game against the south side Expos. The south side fought valiantly, but could not control the bats of the north side, losing their title to the spectators and the boys that both contests were won by girls. The adults were given the task of spitting three watermelon seeds, one at a time, into a pail target. Three spit-offs were held and Doreen Berry and Peter Glabb were the final winners.

Nearly 50 people took part in the egg toss and after many a bounce, splat and roll, the finalists were Clay Davis and his partner eight women's teams entered in the Horseshoe Competition which continued and entertained all afternoon and early evening. In the finals, Jim Garbutt and Harry Crumb defeated the Bern Berry team while Nancy Garbutt and Christine Gibson defeated Susan Sheehan and Janis Doyle. To allow this event to grow even larger, an extra pit will have to be installed next year.

During the afternoon, all in attendance cast their best guess for the number of candies in the large jar. Dean Van Der Linde was the lucky winner with a prediction of 226 - only two out.

Our Rock Bass Derby was very successful even though the number of entrants was down from last year. Wesley Van Der Valk fished faithfully every day for the Derby Week and caught over 75 lb. of rock bass. His cousin, Ryan Amenta caught over 40 lb. This will certainly help the feed situation for our splake, rainbow and small mouth inhabitants, although the cost of worms was hard on their grandfather's wallet.

Three large picnic tables, loaded with a bountiful smorgasborg, better than any restaurant and two barbecues toasting hot dogs, delighted those in attendance. It was a feast fit for Royalty.

Ross Codlin chaired a short annual meeting after dinner with reports by executive on the progress of the emergency numbering system, the ministry water testing program and our financial stability. The 1988 membership fee was set at $5.00 by a unanimous vote. Ross enlightened those in attendance of a special information meeting to be held on August 27 at 10 a.m. at the White Water Hall. Guest speakers will include Mike Maybee, Community Service Officer of the Minden OPP detachment who will give a security and safety talk; and Jean Anthon, President of FOCA and Wendy Ladurantaye, our area trustee who will discuss different facets of the education funding problem.

Prizes were awarded and lucky draws held with most receiving some memento to take home. As dark fell on Minden Lake, the revelers departed by road and water without the promised rain dampening their spirits.

Paddle boat races were a big splash during the Minden Lake Fun Day held at the Berry home.

won in 1987, to the much stronger team. They vow to practice and defeat them in next year's rematch. It is quite a sight to see an out-field with 23 players ranging from four to 64 and the ball drop hopelessly among them.

In the tug-of-war competition, the south side adults and the north side children were the victors in the best two out of three pulls.

Two very entertaining new games were added this year. In the watermelon eating contest - nine and under, Michele Amenta was the winner, and Stacey Gibson won in the 10 to 15 age group. It was a surprise

Danny Garbutt with runners up Wesley Kent and his granddaughter Michele Amenta. This has proved to be a very popular event with even some pre-school children participating.

Winners of the paddle boat races were: Heat 1 - Danny Garbutt and Clay Davis; Heat 2 - Natalie Haden and Janine Garbutt; Adults - Manon Ste Marie and Dean Van Der Linde. Minden Lake is ideal for paddle boats and many residents have invested in these quiet, peaceful means of exercise and transportation.

One game to go

A home run by Darlene Pettes helped the Rockcliffe Snackbar down the Minden Seniors by a score of 5 - 3 on July 25.

Also, on the same night in ladies baseball action, West Guilford came to Haliburton and stole a 7 - 5 victory from the home team.

On Tuesday, July 26,

West Guilford was still on a roll and devoured Minden by a 24 - 4 score.

With only one game remaining in the 1988 schedule, the Rockcliffe Snackbar is leading the league with 23 points. In second place are the Haliburton Seniors with 18 points and one game to play. West Guilford is in third place with 13 points and the Minden Seniors are in fourth place, eight points and one more game to play.

The playoffs begin on August 8. On that night there will be one game played in Minden and another in Haliburton. These will be the first games of a best-of-three semi-final series.

wanted the street to remain open.

On the contrary, Graham said that one merchant quipped that if anything was to be closed it should be the bypass to bring all the traffic through town.

Councillors Bern Berry and Royce Miller were the only two to vote in favour of the request to close the street. Berry said there were no complaints from any members about last year's sale. He added that there will be displays this year from the local service clubs, as well as a dunk tank to raise money for the Hyland Crest shuttle bus. In past years businesses which are located off the main street were also invited to set up displays on the street.

Councillor Bob Sisson was also against closing the street. "I can't see closing the main street in the middle of the summer when busy," he said. Sisson said this is one of the busiest summers Minden has ever seen and there is a shortage of parking spaces within easy walking distance of the main street.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, who broke the tie by voting against the request, had mixed feelings about this.

He said he hates to vote against the street closing since the event has been going on for so long. However, he also noted that one of the reasons the sidewalks were made so wide was to accommodate displays from the merchants.

Heat wave, thunder can't damage tournament

Despite high temperatures and a sudden thunder storm, this year's resort volleyball tournament was a success.

The tournament, which was sponsored by Molsons and McGuinness, was held at Locarno Resort on Lake Kashagawigamog. Eight teams composed of staff and guests were entered from seven area resorts.

In the middle of the final game between Chateau Woodland and Wig-a-Mog Inn a thunderstorm hit, and the game was called off due to the dangerous playing conditions. The two teams were declared co-champions.

One of the teams from Kenmar defeated the Locarno team in the consolation round to become the third place team overall.

There was only one injury throughout the tournament. A player from Chateau Woodland was taken to the hospital by ambulance with a knee injury. While diving for a ball he slipped on the grass and twisted his knee. The injury was not serious, and he was back at the tournament within the hour.

Life and Times of Ina McGuire

Joel Cox, a student at Archie Stouffer Elementary School, won third place in the Heritage Essay Contest for the following entry.

by Joel Cox

Ina McGuire was born June 27, 1903, in West Guilford, Ontario. She is the daughter of Mark and Jane Sisson.

Ina was the second of twelve children born to the Sissons. There were eight boys and four girls.

Her sister, May, is my Great Grandmother Horsley! Mrs. McGuire is my Great Great Aunt!

Ina was christened Sabina Jane Sisson but has been called Ina for as long as she can remember.

Hard work was second nature in this home due to the size of the family.

Ina's mother Jane Sisson made all of the children's clothes. She took in boarders to help the family income, always had time for friends and family and no one ever left her home with an empty stomach!

Mark Sisson, her dad, worked hard in the bush, raised the family's meat and vegetables, and even had his own General Store. He could be strict when necessary but was well liked for his friendly disposition.

When Ina was very young her home was burnt to the ground. Everything was lost except the most precious thing of all, their lives.

They rebuilt their home, only to be burnt out again many years later after Ina was married.

They rebuilt again.

As you can imagine, Christmas was a wonderful time at the Sisson home. Preparing Christmas dinner wasn't a one man job, it required many hands. Half the family would help prepare the dinner while the other half would hitch up the horses to the cutter and attend the Christmas service at St. Andrew's Church.

Ina baked her first layer cake when she was eight years old. She is well-known for the delicious cakes and pies she has baked.

She started school in 1908 and really enjoyed it. She never failed a grade. Fun time at school was spent sleigh riding and climbing trees. Tree climbing wasn't considered very lady-like but it sure Andy Kruusi of Minden has been selected to attend this August's Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters Junior Conservation School at the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre in Dorset.

Kruusi was specially chosen on the basis of character, demonstrated interest in conservation, and essay on a conservation theme and an application to the school.

For one week, the teenage students in this course will study nature's fascinating inter-relationships and the outdoor recreation that healthy natural resources - such as abundant fish and wildlife, well-managed forests and clean water - make possible. Subjects taught include the management of wetlands, wildlife, streams, and forests; wilderness survival; orienteering; casting; trapping; and marksmanship with a rifle, shotgun and bow. Instructors at the school are recognized experts in their fields.

The School is made possible with the financial support of O.F.A.H. members and clubs in Ontario, and is designed to provide students with an introduction to resource management. Corporate sponsors of the 1988 School include: Shimano Canada Limited, Hazelwood Sales Limited, Woodstream Corporation, Peterborough Guns Limited, Valcartier Industries Inc., Ancaster Outdoor Safety Inc., Lawry Targets Limited, Monsen's Sporting Goods Limited, and Johnson Diversified Canada Inc.

Another successful Carnival

An enthusiastic audience and interesting mix of activities to keep people entertained proved to be the right formula for a successful Minden Rotary Summer Carnival. The event took place Wednesday at the Minden arena.

In addition to the excitement of the midway and games, those in attendance enjoyed music from the Winona Drive Quintet, country and western band North Country Express and dance band Ugly Rumour. A talent show and fireworks display provided additional attractions.

Since there is no charge for admission, organizers were unable to say how many attended this year's carnival. However, the size of the crowd far exceeded any the event has drawn in the last few years.

One of the highlights of the evening was the selection of the winner in the Rotary Club's Cruise Draw raffle. The winner was Linda Newlands of Agincourt. She won a luxury cruise for two, valued at $4500, or has the option of taking $4000 in cash.

Organizers were extremely pleased with the response to the carnival this year, and have already started making plans for next year's event.

High times at the Rotary Carnival.

Chairman denies adjournment request

ality would consent to this request. A.R. Black, who was representing the board, said objectors have had plenty of time to prepare themselves for this hearing. He noted that there was a public hearing on this issue in April and said a prudent objector should have been in contact with his planner at that time.

When the board chairman would not consent to the adjournment, Shapiera then said Jadek Investments would be withdrawing its objections. He said that without his planning expert he had no planning evidence and would be unable to effectively cross examine the planning experts who were representing the board and the municipality. However, despite his offer to withdraw his objections, Shapiera did stay on and cross examine all the witnesses who were giving evidence on behalf of the board or the municipality.

The new school will provide five classroom spaces for students at Archie Stouffer School. Business Administrator Jim Bradley told the hearing that the board investigated several alternatives before settling on this option.

The long-term goal is to have an addition built onto the school. However, the Ministry of Education is not yet willing to provide any funding for this.

The reason that this alternative is better than adding portable classrooms is that it improves the board's chances of securing ministry funding in the future, said Bradley. Because of an antiquated method of determining space needs, the ministry says there is room for 615 students. There were slightly more than 500 at the school last year and one class was forced to spend part of the day in a make-shift class in the hallway.

The problem with adding portable classrooms is that each one adds 35 students to the ministry's formula for space needs, even though the average class size will be about 20 students. Bradley told the hearing that by temporarily housing the students at this proposed satellite campus, the school's capacity will remain constant as the population grows. Therefore, Minden will have to become a higher priority for ministry grants.

To prepare this site for school purposes, the board will have to invest an estimated $2,500 into fencing, and another $2,000 into partitions for the building. The annual rent will be $25,000.

For comparison, Bradley said it would cost $25,000 to have one portable classroom installed at the school. Since at least five are needed, the board would be paying $125,000 for what would very likely become permanent fixtures at the school.

Bradley added that there would be no ministry funding for the portables, while there may be funding for up to 50 per cent of the rent on the IGA building.

McKay Brydon, principal of the school, addressed the concerns for safety. Using a diagram of the proposed school site, he showed how the school bus loading and unloading would be handled.

Buses would enter onto a restricted bus loading area from one direction and leave the site through a separate exit. Since all the loading and unloading of buses will be done on the school grounds, traffic on the Bobcaygeon Road will not be affected.

Structural engineer Hans Vierhuis gave his opinion on the integrity of the building. Although he said the entire building is sinking at a surprising rate, the building itself is structurally sound. He described the gradual sinking of the building as an annoyance rather than a danger and said the building is entirely suitable for the proposed use.

No forced amalgamation

Any amalgamation of municipalities in Haliburton County will come from within. This was one of the messages that Municipal Affairs Minister John Eakins delivered to county council at their last meeting.

"I'm not planning to hoist anything on you," Eakins told the members of county council on July 20. He was addressing the current review of county government being carried out by his ministry.

Eakins had been invited to the meeting to provide first-hand information about the government's plans for the future of county government in Ontario. "My goal is simply, how can we make county government stronger," he said. He told the county that his ministry is seeking input from all counties across the province before deciding what direction it should take.

Based on the hint that the province might demand very small municipalities to amalgamate with their neighbours, Haliburton County Council has been pondering the potential for moving ahead on this on their own.

"The soundings were that if we didn't act, the government would reshuffle the boundaries for us," Dysart Reeve Murray

"Sometimes when you reshuffle from the municipality to the county, you weaken the municipalities."

Fearrey commented at the meeting. "Sometimes when you reshuffle from the municipality to the county you weaken the municipalities," he said.

Fearrey said he too is in favour of strengthening county government. However, he is not in favour of trying to force amalgamation on municipalities that don't want it.

Although talk of amalgamation has been the central focus of county council since the ministry released a report on county government a few months back, Fearrey believes there are other more important issues that should be dealt with. For example, the county needs more power to address environmental issues, he said. "If there's anything that will kill Haliburton County it's the environment."

Although Eakins had been invited to this meeting to respond to questions, no one was asking any. Instead, he gave a brief talk on his hopes for a strengthening of county government, offering no real specific information.

A special task force has been set up to examine this issue and it has been receiving input from counties across the province. The county form of government in Ontario is 139 years old, he said, and there has never been a comprehensive review.

Eakins also told the local reeves and deputy reeves that his earlier comments made at a meeting of cottagers associations about being pleased with what was he was glad to see talks had begun. Some had interpreted his statement as an endorsement of the move toward amalgamation.

The concept of amalgamating the county's 10 municipalities into five larger ones was introduced by Bicroft Reeve Bill Howe and Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Sinc Nesbitt.

There is tremendous growth in this area in recent years, Howe commented at this meeting. "I have a real fear of being caught up ... no control down the road because of the way things are expanding." Haliburton can not afford to have its 10 municipalities all pulling in different directions, he said. Only a few municipalities have Official Plans, and zoning bylaws vary from township to township.

Howe said he does not believe that the county can run efficiently "under 10 roofs". The problem may be corrected now, but four or five years down the road they might not be able to do anything about it, he said.

Commenting on the possibility of eventually having a county-wide Official Plan, Howe said it is impossible to get agreement among 10 municipalities. With only five municipalities, the problems are cut in half, he said.

Before leaving, Eakins offered the service of his ministry staff should the county want to carry on with its review. "If you want to be part of the process, now is the time to do that," he said. The initiative has to come from the county. The government is often criticized for imposing, he said. "I don't want to do that."

Heat takes toll at Yard

With the temperature hovering in the 30 degree range, heat took its toll during the seventeenth running of the Heineken Yard Friday in Minden. The number of runners was down from last year, the course record was not threatened, and a number of participants had to be treated for heat stroke and exhaustion.

Despite the hot conditions, the organizers were pleased with the annual event, billed as the Highlands' most venerable footrace. Some 284 runners made the dash from the gates of Onondaga Camp to the village green in downtown Minden.

Leading this year's race was Ken Hamilton with a time of 22:46. He was over a minute ahead of his nearest competitor Tim Andrews, who clocked in at 23:55. In third spot was T. Brunner, who also was the first junior across the line, with a time of 24:04. The first woman Visitors to downtown Minden Friday enjoyed a musical treat as members of the Sir Sandford Fleming School of Fine Arts brass ensemble workshop provided an open air concert on the village green. The young musicians, under the direction of Archie Stouffer Elementary School music teacher Glen Carter, HHSS music teacher Rick Vaughan, and Toronto music teacher Walter Barnes, performed a 40 minute concert to mark the end of their week of study.

competitor to finish the distance was Sharon Crawford. She was twentieth over-all and posted a time of 27:41.

The course record for the yard is 21:58.

Others finishing in the top ten included: fourth Joe Sax--24:33; Peter Gove 24:41; Brad Shepherd 24:55; Tim Hughes

25:25; John Pickard 25:36; Roger Brunner 25:42; and Doug Barber 26:05.

Following the race, participants gathered at the Rockcliffe Tavern for the presentation of awards, which included a special presentation to Camp Onondaga for their support of the event over the years.

Well, the month of July has slipped by very quickly and it seems that everyone has been too busy to really enjoy the "Good Old Summertime". Those of us that have been involved with the Guild Summer Sale have breathed a sigh of relief that it is now over and are pleased that most of the artists and workers involved seem to be very happy with the results of this year's show!!

On Friday, July 22nd a few of the spinners and other interested people travelled to Lindsay for "Sheep Focus 88". It is reported as Canada's largest Lamb, Wool and Sheep Festival. There were many interesting demonstrations going on all day Friday and Saturday such as hand shearing, spinning and weaving - flower arranging - sheep dog demonstrations, etc. Dorothy Jean Connors and I were two of the spinners that helped out during the eventful day - and we really enjoyed it. This past week Marie Wallace and her group of energetic quilters finished the quilt which will be raffled next year. Marie would like to thank all the ladies that helped and another special thanks to Shirley Cummings of the Bush Boutique at Haliburton Lake who so generously donated this year's quilt. Just a reminder to purchase tickets for the quilt which are now on sale at the Rails' End Gallery and from different members of the Guild.

Speaking of tickets - I'm sure that all of the people who purchased tickets for the canoe - would like to know that the draw took place on Saturday, July 22nd and the winner was - Lois Smith from Font Hill, Ontario. Incidentally, she purchased her ticket at the Sportsman's Show.

The Summer Film Festival continues. This week Wednesday, July 27th - the films will be Emily Carr - "Growing Pains" - which tells the story of Emily Carr's life, her growth from a child to a lonely young woman. Although her early years began in Victoria, B.C., her work eventually took her into remote villages of the province. The other film - Emily Carr - "Little Old Lady on the Edge of Nowhere" is a continuation of Emily's life story. Tells of her meeting with the "Group of Seven and her work as a painter and later as a writer.

Some of the artists of the Summer Sale have replenished the shelves at the "Guild Shop" (at the Rails' End Gallery). Members in good standing may now enjoy a 10% discount on most purchases of $20.00 or more. Please show your Membership Card at the time of purchase.

Attention members who have a subscription to "Heddle" - a Canadian Publication for Spinners, Weavers and Knitters ... watch for the September issue. There will be a Personality Profile of "Wendy Bateman" which was written by our own Ginnie Muenzel.

Pettingers mark fiftieth

Peg and Ed Pettinger recently celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary and were honoured with a celebration at the Minden Curling Club.

Peg and Ed Pettinger were the honoured guests and the recipients of a wedding anniversary celebration held at the Minden Curling Club on July 16, 1988. Their son featured gold coloured streamers and balloons, bells and other congratulatory banners.

Invited guests arrived from many parts of the province and they, together with their Minden friends, extended good wishes to the celebrants. We would like to mention that some of the guests in attendance today were also part of the original wedding party held in Toronto on July 16, 1938. Friends are priceless.

Peg and Ed were surprised and pleased to be the recipients of a pair of chaise lounges and a lawn table from their local friends plus other anniversary gifts, cards and messages from the out-of-town guests. Good wishes, cards and scrolls were also received from Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, Premier David Peterson, Mme. Jeanne Sauve, Governor General of Canada, Bill Scott MP Victoria - Haliburton, Honourable John Eakins, MPP Victoria - Haliburton and Lincoln Alexander, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario.

Ed extended a sincere (and very emotional) thank you to guests for their attendance, their thoughtful gifts and good wishes and to Peter, Lynda, Paul and Kelly for setting up the presentation. Thanks to Margaret and Bill Harrison for their usual fine efficiency in serving the refreshments and to Liz Alrutz for her arrangement in supplying the guests with a decorative and tasty variety of hors d'oeuvres for the more than 70 guests who attended. The Special 50th Anniversary cake looked beautiful, photographed well and tasted delicious.

Peg and Ed wish to extend a "golden thank you to all". They did their best to welcome and circulate among their friends, but could have missed one or two persons. However, the gold coloured register will be a treasured reference and we feel certain that a review of the register will bring back such wonderful memories of the friends who attended and will remain a cherished item for years to come.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

More opportunity for small business sector

by Bill Scott, M.P.

On July 4, 1988, Supply and Services Minister, Otto Jelinek announced new procurement measures which will bring greater fairness and more opportunity to the small business sector while reducing the complexity and cost of doing business with government.

The Small Business Sub-contractors Opportunities Program will require prime contractors on contracts over $10 million to submit a plan indicating the share of subcontracts that will go to small Canadian businesses. Bidders for contracts over $100 million will be required to submit not only subcontract plans, but also supplier development plans for small businesses.

Joint industry/government funded Small Business Source Development Program will be expanded to include more industry sectors.

An Automated vendor Rotation System will be implemented to permit competitive sourcing, giving all businesses an opportunity to bid for government goods or services.

A Government Contract Information Centre will be developed to give business people the whole picture on the government's procurement expenditures with less red tape and running around.

A comprehensive Practical Guide to government procurement in Canada will be published, compiling each purchasing agency and what they buy.

The Department of Supply and Services (DSS) will be organizing Procurement Outlook Conferences by industrial sector and Regional Commodity Specific Seminars in various regions across Canada to advise them as to what DSS anticipates it will be buying.

Small Business Advocates will be placed within DSS and the Department of Regional Industrial Expansion to represent and assist small businesses in the procurement system.

Measures will be introduced which will simplify procedures for potential suppliers and help reduce costs.

Weatherwise

This summer has been so hot and dry. The farmers and gardeners are wondering why, And nearly every day they promise us rain. But we usually look for it in vain.

Those on vacation like this kind of weather. They all come to town and go shopping together. But when the fall comes and the gardens are past. We will likely get the rain at last.

So let us enjoy each day as it comes along. For winter will come when the winds blow strong.

This week's winners at the Minden Senior Shuffleboard Club Euchre at the Art Gallery, 1:30 p.m. were: high lady - Fredy Harrison, low lady - Ada Stevens, high man - Sid Rowe, low man - Marie Dennie and lone hands - Florence Schlosser.

Thoughts

The soul can take wings - I grasp at nothingness. In intangible things. Of iridescent shades of amber Azure, violet, scarlet, cerulean, Blissful, mauve and copper. Sweet pine, indigo and deepest black.

I wonder, as I gaze at these transcendent things. For they are but nomads. In my seas of wonder, for what did God give rise to these. Indescribably beautiful things,

I wonder! Suddenly they are gone. Gone from my tranquility. And I am left alone.

Hello Readers!

It's looking very much like a storm coming; thunder and lightning.

Visitors for Ada Lewis on the weekend were Helen Buttior of Peterborough and Mr. and Mrs. John Rockery of Lindsay. Bert Harrison had his son Holly to see him. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Brown of Lindsay came to call on Gertie McKay on Sunday afternoon. I was pleased to see them also.

We are glad to see Annie Schultz home from the hospital. Mrs. Shuyler is much better and is trying to walk each day.

Tuesday afternoon Chantelle got enough people together to play cards and crokinole in the auditorium.

The Ladies of the Lady of Fatima Church in Minden served us our afternoon tea. It was really good, and everyone enjoyed it. I am sorry I wasn't able to attend.

Jean Taylor has gone to spend the afternoon with her neice and family. Ron Taylor called on Angus Coulter for a visit, and visitors for Mrs. Buttery were Mr. and Mrs. Newbatt and son Ryan, also Ruth Kellett.

Au Revoir. "Blessed are they who know the way to bring back memories of yesterday."

Legion ready for bluegrass

submitted by Gerald Irish

It's that time again - the third annual Legion Bluegrass Festival. August 5, 6 and 7 are the dates of this highly entertaining, family oriented weekend.

The Legion is ready for this year. More lighting, more camp sites, new roads and walking paths have been put in and improved concession booth facilities are a reality. You can be fed like you've never been fed before. We are offering beef or homemade sausage or breakfast on a bun, french fries, hamburgers, hot dogs, corn on the cob and much more. Visit the Bluegrass souvenir booth and buy your Legion Bluegrass T-shirt, sweat shirt or memento of the event.

Advance ticket sales for campers are really taking off. Get your advance tickets now, save yourself some money and make sure you get a site.

Once again shuttle buses will be running from the village to the Bluegrass site. These buses will be running every half hour starting at 5 p.m. on Friday night, 11 a.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. on Sunday. There is no charge for this service and since on-site parking is limited, we encourage people to park in the village or leave your vehicles at home and catch the bus. Pickup points are at Rails' End Gallery and the Legion.

Tickets on the lucky draw for a Starcraft Trailer and other prizes are still on sale. You can't win if you don't have a ticket.

Congratulations to R. Moody of Cedar St. in Cardiff on being the lucky winner of the sleeping bags on the Early Bird draw.

Volunteers are still needed to help man the day gate and other stations. Please help us.

Come to Bluegrass. Have a great time. We'll see you there.

Plan your escape

Knowing what to do in the event of a fire in your home can prevent injury or death. Plan escape routes from all parts of your home and know how to contact your fire department. "WHERE THE ACTION IS"

Lights reduce accidents

by Doreen Hawman

Research by the Ministry of Transportation indicates daytime traffic collisions could be reduced by 20 per cent if all vehicles used daytime driving lights. It is estimated that 45 per cent of accidents occur when a driver, pedestrian or cyclist fails to accurately judge the speed, position or even the presence of an oncoming vehicle.

Daytime driving lights make the car more visible, hence easier to judge a car's speed and position on the road.

By December 1989, all new cars in Canada will be equipped with low-intensity daytime driving lights which will turn on automatically with the engine. In the meantime, the federal and provincial governments are encouraging drivers to keep their regular headlights on during the day at low beam or to install specially designed daytime lights of a lower intensity.

Keep in mind this quote from MT - "Be seen in all the right places - lights on

When she got in grade eight Ina decided to quit school and go to work to help out the family.

Ina learned to make fun out of working. When she had to sweep the whole store where she was working, by herself, she would sing while she swept. This made the time and the job go faster.

One little incident Ina remembers quite clearly is when she decided to try smoking. She didn't go for cigarettes either, she tried the pipe! It seems that her dad smoked a pipe and would sometimes leave it going in the ashtray. Ina figured dad would never know so she would take a little puff once in awhile. Well one day dad caught Ina in the middle of her little puffs and after a trip to the woodshed and a tanning she'd never forgot, she gave up smoking forever!

In October of 1919 at the age of sixteen Ina Sisson became Mrs. Leslie McGuire. She and Leslie had six children, two girls and four boys. Her twins, two of the boys, were born at her sister May's home, with May helping the doctor with the deliveries.

Ina has seen her share of sorrow in her life. She lost one son to polio when he was thirteen, then a daughter to cancer. I believe the hardest blow came when Leslie, her husband who shared her life for sixty-three years, died of a heart attack July 20th, 1983.

But Ina is a survivor. She lives at Hyland Crest and on June 27 of this year she will be eighty-five years young. She is always ready for a visit and has a wonderful sense of humor.

SHE IS IN EVERY WAY A GREAT LADY.
